

Literacy

In literacy, we will read and learn a wide range of fairy tales, such as 'The Three Little Pigs', or 'Little Red Riding Hood'. However, are the bad characters necessarily bad? Have they been misunderstood? We will learn the twisted tale versions where all is not what it seems. We will think about fairy tale language when retelling or writing our own stories. We will adapt and write our own traditional tale to read in school and at home.

The Three Little Wolves and the Big Bad Wolf- Story Synopsis

Traditionally, the wolf is always the bad character. Little Red, the three little pigs, they all have a story to say about a wolf. But, is the wolf always in the wrong? In this tale, the three little wolves go out into the world, building themselves a splendid, brick house. However, they hadn't reckoned on the big bad pig coming along...

Key Vocabulary

Traditional tale— a story that has been retold over many years. These stories can also be called fairy tales.

Setting— where a story takes place.

Character— a person or animal in a story.

Hero— the main character in a story. A hero is usually a good character that is kind and well-liked.

Villain— the character who is the opposite of the hero. The villain could be mean, nasty or evil!

RHRE / Growth Mindset

emotions empathy impact change control trust confide express joy excitement surprise anger worry fear disappointment

Science - Growth in animals and plants

5 Things Plants Need

The infographic features a green background with a red maple leaf containing the number '5'. It lists five essential elements for plant growth, each with a corresponding icon: Water (cloud with rain and a watering can), Light (sun and lightbulb), Air (wind lines and a CO₂ cloud), Space to grow (two plants in a pot), and Nutrients (a jar of fertilizer and a plant). The labels 'Water', 'Light', 'Air', 'Space to grow', and 'Nutrients' are placed below their respective icons.

Map of the world

